This Week's Welcome Message

This week, the children have been learning a little bit about the other schools in our Trust. Old Moat is part of CLIC Trust. CLIC stands for Changing Lives in Collaboration. Collaboration is working together, and the CLIC strapline, "Together we make the difference," reflects the importance of that. The children watched an assembly from Mrs Jo Ashcroft, our Executive Headteacher, then one from each of our sister schools, Chorlton Park, Rolls Crescent (in Hulme) and Dane Bank (in Tameside).

Staff at Old Moat benefit from learning together with our colleagues across the Trust, and Mrs Ashcroft has brought in some national experts for staff training on vocabulary and other subjects.

We are looking forward to the children being able to attend events with pupils from the other schools as COVID restrictions ease.

Book of the Week

Miss Addison's book is called What Lives in the Woods by Lindsay Currie. It is a spooky, mystery story about a family that stay in an ancient Manor house over the summer holidays. It is filled with shadowy figures, unexplainable messages and mannequins that move on their own! It is a perfect story to read before Halloween!
